The Mission will be implemented in India for 4 years between 2020-21 and 2023-24. The mission is comprised of components viz. Research, Innovation, and Development. It will focus on Aramid Fibre, Carbon Fibre, Composites, and Nylon Fibre. It is worth registering here that the Indian Textiles Market contributes 6% of the global technical textiles and is estimated to be 16 billion USD, whereas the global market is 250 billion USD. And this mission eyes to take the Indian Technical Textiles market to 40-50 billion USD by 2024.

The privileged SCs of Lakshadweep

On 26th February 2020, the Union Cabinet approved amendments to ‘the Laccadive, Minicoy and Amindivi Islands Land Revenue and Tenancy Regulation, 1965 Act’ for providing Occupancy rights to Scheduled Tribes of Lakshadweep. The occupancy right is the right to occupy and use tribal areas. Lakshadweep is made up of an extensive group of islands and currently, it has 17 uninhabited islands in the region. According to Census 2011, there are 64,429 people on the island. It is worth knowing here that out of this 93% of the population is native and it has been classified as Scheduled Tribes due to the social and economic backwardness of the people. In addition to this, it is worth noticing here that according to the SC and ST list (modification order), 1956, the inhabitants born to both parents born in the islands are alone treated as Scheduled Tribes.

The Surrogacy (Regulation) bill, 2019 won Cabinet’s approval

The Cabinet has approved the changes which were introduced to the ‘Surrogacy (Regulation) Bill, 2019’ by the 23-member select committee of Rajya Sabha In February 2020. Now not only close relatives but “any woman” willing to act as a surrogate mother shall be allowed to become a surrogate mother and this clause is likely to benefit widows and divorced women besides infertile Indian couples. It has also agreed to delete the definition of infertility which meant an inability to conceive after unprotected intercourse for 5 years. The committee was of the opinion that it was a pretty long period for a couple to wait for a child. The Insurance Cover of a surrogate mother has also been increased from 16 months to 36 months. Around 15 amendments have been approved. This bill was passed in Lok Sabha in 2019 and was meant to forbid commercial surrogacy and promote altruistic surrogacy that does not demand monetary compensation apart from medical expenses and Insurance.

Sri Lanka escaped UNHRC Resolution

The government of Sri Lanka formally informed the United Nations that it will withdraw from the United Nations Human Rights Council (UNHRC) resolution 40/1 that was co-sponsored by Sri Lanka and 11 other nations. Recently the United States barred the Sri Lankan Army Chief from entering the country accusing him of war crimes, which is one of the reasons behind this move of Sri Lanka. The main aim of this resolution was to investigate wartime violence against Tamil Tiger rebels. It is worth recalling here that the Tamil Rebels were demanding separate homeland claiming that they were ethnic Tamil minority.

Renewal of UNSC sanctions on Yemen

The UN Security Council has renewed its sanctions regime on Yemen for another year amid the ongoing tensions between Britain and Russia. Russia threatened to veto any mention, even implicit, of Iran. The sanctions plan includes the extension of the mandate of UN experts who monitor the arms embargo imposed in 2015. The resolution also extends the measures that provide for the freezing of assets and travel bans on targeted officials. The government of Yemen welcomed the London-drafted resolution on the sanctions, which was adopted by thirteen countries. According to Yemen's Permanent Representative to the UN Abdullah Al-Saadi, the Council is playing an important role in ending the suffering of people of Yemen caused by the war launched by the Iran-backed Houthi militias.

He is said to have breached Article 2.1.1 of the Anticorruption code (being party to an agreement or effort to fix or contrive in any way the result, progress, conduct or any other aspect of matches), Article 2.1.4, Article 2.4.4 and Article 2.4.7 (all relating to corrupt practices).

Conservatives are all set to reign the Iranian Parliament

In Iran, conservatives won the general election marked by the lowest turnout since the 1979 Islamic Revolution. According to the announcement of the Interior Ministry, Conservative candidates have booked at least 219 seats in the 290-seat parliament, also known as the Majlis. 17 women were elected, the same number as in the outgoing 290-seat parliament. The participation rate was 42.6 percent, which was the lowest in the last 40 years as a conservative-dominated electoral watchdog disqualified about half of the 16,000-odd candidates, who were mostly moderates and reformists.

The Upcoming US-Taliban peace deal

On 29th February 2020, the United States of America will sign a peace agreement with the Taliban forces to put an end to the 18-year war in Afghanistan. After the agreement, 12,000 US troops that are currently deployed in Afghanistan will return to the US. The background reveals that the Taliban who are waging war in Afghanistan are Sunni Islamic fundamentalists. The Taliban reigned between 1996 and 2001 and emerged as a powerful political and military organization in Afghanistan. Although 80% of the world opium originates in Afghanistan today, yet under Taliban rule in Afghanistan, Opium was completely eradicated. The Taliban openly rejoiced the 09/11 attacks on the US that led the US wage war in Afghanistan to roll back the control of the Taliban. The US conducted two major operations to confront the terrorism of Taliban namely Operation Enduring Freedom (2001-14) and Operation Freedom's Sentinel (2015-present).

Discovery of breathable oxygen outside of Milky Way

As per the latest publication of the Astrophysical Journal, astronomers at China's Shanghai Astronomical Observatory, led by Junzhi Wang has identified molecular oxygen in a galaxy outside the Milky Way for the very first time. They discovered the presence of molecular oxygen by analyzing light waves that had reached Earth from Markarian 231 galaxy, which is located around 581 million light-years away from Earth. The lightwave readings were taken at two different locations viz. Institute for Radio Astronomy in the Millimeter Range (IRAM) 30-meter telescope in Granada, Spain, and the Northern Extended Millimeter Array telescope in the French Alps. As per estimates, there could be 100 times more oxygen in Markarian 231 than the Milky Way. It is worth recalling here that in the last 20 years, molecular oxygen has been found on two other locations in the Milky Way viz. the Rho Ophiuchi cloud and the Orion nebula.

Resignation of Irish PM Varadkar

Irish Prime Minister Leo Eric Varadkar resigned from his post on account of the insufficiency of the majority after the parliamentary vote. It is a stripped-down political declaration on women's rights that seeks to protect the benefits under threat but does not recommend new ways to ensure progress toward equality. It is worth registering here that the UN declaration on women is approved every 5 years. The session agreed to combat human trafficking and modern slavery and other forms of exploitation and ensured to provide support, services and for all women victims of violence. It is in line with the Beijing Declaration and Platforms for Action of 1995, that aims to enhance the women's emancipation and advancement around the globe.

Vision via CRISPR (CaS9)

The scientists of Oregon University, Portland, USA for the first time used a Gene Editing Tool, “Clustered Regularly Interspaced Short Palindromic Repeats (CRISPR) (CaS9)” to treat blindness. However, the verification of restored vision is still in process. CRISPR is a family of DNA sequences that are found in prokaryotic organisms like bacteria which are derived from DNA of Bacteriophages. Bacteriophage is a virus that infects bacteria and archaea. In this process, an enzyme CRISPR-Cas (associated protein) is used to edit genes in an organism. After identifying the target, it adds, removes or alters the particular DNA sequence for the chosen purpose.

The biggest explosion in the universe

On 29th February 2020, an international team of Astronomers including the Curtin University node of the International Centre for Radio Astronomy Research in Perth, Australia, discovered the biggest explosion seen in the universe since the Big Bang. The explosion occurred in the Ophiuchus galaxy cluster, which is 390 million light-years from Earth. The astronomers employed X-Ray and radio telescopes, including India’s Giant Metrewave Radio Telescope (GMRT) in Pune, Maharashtra, NASA’s Chandra X-ray Observatory, European Space Agency’s (ESA) XMM-Newton and the Murchison Widefield Array (MWA) in Western Australia for the purpose.

‘Henneguya salminicola’: The First-ever animal that can live without oxygen

According to the latest publication of the journal Proceedings of the National Academy of Sciences, Researchers of Tel Aviv University (TAU), Israel discovered a jellyfish-like parasite, ‘Henneguya salminicola’, that can survive without oxygen. It lacks the mitochondrial genome and with this, it has become the first multicellular organism known to have this absence. It implies that it doesn’t breathe and is not dependent on oxygen for its survival. Belonging to the family of jellyfish, coral, and anemones, it is a less than 10-celled parasite that lives within the muscle tissue of salmon fish that causes “milky flesh” or “tapioca” disease in the fish.

Muhyiddin Yassin: Malaysia's new Prime Minister

Malaysia appointed Muhyiddin bin Haji Muhammad Yassin as its 8th Prime Minister. The swearing-in ceremony of the 72 years old former 10th Deputy Prime Minister of Malaysia was held at the national palace in Kuala Lumpur. Coming from the Malaysian United Indigenous Party, Parti Pribumi Bersatu Malaysia, Yassin has become head of a coalition dominated by the country's ethnic Malay Muslim majority. Malaysia had gone through a turmoil a week ago as Mahathir Mohamad's alliance suffered a collapse. Initially, the leader-in-waiting Anwar Ibrahim was about to take over the post but according to Malaysia's constitution, the King appoints a PM based on the majority & confidence commanded by him in the members of the Parliament(Dewan Rakyat) which has 222 elected members. The Malaysian constitution clearly specifies that if the PM ceases to command the majority, he shall tender the resignation of the cabinet unless at his request the King dissolves the parliament. Finally, Mr. Muhyiddin built his alliance and became the new PM.

The Red Panda Species are two separate species

The Chinese Academy of Sciences has discovered that the red panda species are actually two separate species. It is worth registering here that both the Himalayan red pandas and the Chinese red Pandas were together considered as red panda species. But now the DNA analysis has proved that they are two separate species. The Himalayan Red Panda has more white spots on its face in comparison to Chinese red pandas that are redder with less white on it. The tail rings of the Chinese Red Pandas are darker and paler as compared to the Himalayan Red Panda. Chinese Red Pandas are found in northern Myanmar, Sichuan, south-eastern Tibet and Yunnan province of China. The Himalayan Red Pandas are found in India, Nepal, Bhutan, and southern Tibet. Globally, there are 10,000 red pandas in the wild.
